Eating

Nanjing cuisine is unique and mouth-watering. Salted duck is salty, fragrant and tender, and is a regular on the table; duck blood vermicelli soup is based on duck soup, with tender duck blood, chewy vermicelli and duck offal, which is warm and delicious. There are also crispy and delicious duck oil pastry biscuits, and beef pot stickers with charred skin and juicy fillings. Every bite is a unique memory of Jinling flavor.

◆ Duck Blood Vermicelli Soup 鸭血粉丝汤

Duck blood vermicelli soup is a Nanjing specialty. It is made with duck soup as the base, and is added with duck blood, duck offal and chewy vermicelli. The soup is fresh and delicious, and is a popular signature snack.

◆ Salted Duck 盐水鸭

The meat is tender, fat but not greasy, moderately salty and fragrant, with white skin and tender meat. It is called "Osmanthus Duck" when the osmanthus flowers are in full bloom around the Mid-Autumn Festival.

◆ Beef Pot Stickers 牛肉锅贴

The skin is fried until golden and crispy, and the filling is tender beef. A small hole is left when wrapping to lock in the soup. When you bite it, the skin is crispy and the filling is juicy. It is a delicious snack commonly seen on the streets of Nanjing.

◆ Nanjing Duck 南京板鸭

Nanjing roast duck has crispy skin and tender meat. The marinade is the soul of the duck, which is boiled with a variety of spices until thick. Roasted and sliced, the skin is shiny and crispy, the duck meat is tender and juicy, and the marinade is salty and slightly sweet. It is a classic delicacy on the table of old Nanjing.

◆ Sweet Osmanthus Taro 桂花糖芋苗

Boil taro sprouts until soft, add brown sugar and lotus root powder, and drizzle with sweet osmanthus. It has a dense and sweet taste and overflowing osmanthus fragrance. It is a classic snack to warm the stomach in autumn and winter.

◆ Longpao Soup Dumplings 龙袍汤包

Originated from Longpao Town, Liuhe, the skin is as thin as paper, the filling is large and juicy, and the crab roe filling is particularly classic. You need to suck the soup first and then eat the filling, which is full of freshness and fragrance.

◆ Dried Shredded Chinese Krill 开洋干丝

Dried dried shrimps are a traditional Nanjing delicacy, belonging to the Huaiyang cuisine. Cut dried white tofu into thin strips, blanch them repeatedly in boiling water to remove the beany smell, and then add dried shrimps (dried shrimps), shredded ginger, mushrooms, etc., and simmer them in chicken or shrimp soup to make them tasty. The dried shrimps are soft but chewy, the dried shrimps enhance the flavor, and the shredded ginger removes the fishy smell. The soup is rich, salty and slightly sweet, with rich taste. It can be used as a side dish or as a main dish, showing the delicacy and elegance of Jinling cuisine.

◆ Honglan Jade Belt Cake 洪蓝玉带糕

Honglan Jade Belt Cake is a traditional cake from Honglan Town, Lishui, Nanjing. It originated in the Qing Dynasty and is named after its shape resembling a jade belt. It is made of glutinous rice flour, sesame, walnut kernels, maltose, etc., and is made through multiple processes such as soaking rice, grinding, mixing, steaming, and slicing. The cake is as white as jade, with fine layers on the cross section. It is soft, glutinous, and sweet. The aroma of sesame and walnuts is intertwined, sweet but not greasy, and has a delicate and soft taste. As a local festival and gift, its production skills have been listed as an intangible cultural heritage.
